Indiana Ban on Trans Care for Minors Now in Effect

The 7th Circuit Court of Appeals has allowed Indiana's ban on HRT and puberty blockers for minors to go into effect immediately following a hearing back on the 16th. Appears likely that the Reagan and Trump appointees were two on the panel who decided in favor, while the Biden appointee decided against. Full opinion to come shortly:

I feel lucky to have turned 18 before this could go into effect but it's still so hard to not get depressed thinking about how other people here will have to work so much harder and potentially break the law to get the treatment i was able to. indiana is such a backwards shithole and i can't wait to escape. i feel like im just waiting for them to pass even worse things and it's a constant anxiety

Ugh, this place is terrible. Even as an adult, I'm worried about my future. I can't imagine what these poor kids will have to go through.

Same. Might try to leave sometime next year if I can find a position elsewhere that's safer. Sooner if November becomes a federal shitstorm.

Hillary won the popular vote. There are a lot of factors to blame but I don't think we can blame it on "people just didn't care enough to go out and vote."

Popular vote does not matter in the US because we don't vote for a president, we vote for electors who then elect a president.
